

Public, Regulatory & Investigations

Our Approach

Navigating the public and regulated sector environment can be complex. We have a deep understanding of this environment. This enables us to provide practical and informed advice to statutory bodies and people dealing with such bodies; regulators and regulated persons; and anyone undertaking, or subject to, statutory or nonstatutory investigation.

Our specialisation and experience results in expert and effective advice, delivered quickly and clearly.

Our Expertise

- Public and administrative law
- Statutory interpretation
- Statutory powers and jurisdictional error
- Natural and constitutional justice and fair procedures
- Judicial review and other litigation
- Governance and procurement
- Information law, including freedom of information, data protection, privilege and confidentiality
- Professional disciplinary and regulatory law
- Investigations and inquiries
- Dispute resolution
- Regulation of Lobbying
- Legislative drafting

Our Experience

- Public Law: We specialise in advising both public and private sector clients on what statutory bodies can properly do, and what procedures they must follow. We have a particular expertise in the public sector legal environment
- Regulatory Law: We advise regulators, regulated entities and others operating in a variety of regulated sectors on all types of regulation, including licensing, compliance, investigation and enforcement
- Professional Discipline: We have extensive experience of dealing with professional disciplinary systems, codes and procedures. Our expertise stems from our experience in advising professional disciplinary bodies
- Information Law: We advise on all aspects of access to, and disclosure of, information, including freedom of information, access to environmental information, data protection, discovery, privilege, confidentiality, production orders and search warrants
- Investigations and Inquiries: We help clients deal with investigations and inquiries of any kind – whether statutory or non-statutory, including commissions of investigation and tribunals of inquiry. We provide practical and clear advice to anyone that either has to undertake or be subject to an investigation
